ESTATE PLANNING

There is a great deal of pleasure in reading books by the same author. I have read most of the books by the author of "The House of the Seven Gables" and I am now reading his new novel "The Professor's House". I hope you will be pleased with it.

Background

Whether it is a natural or a forced literary homoeopathia, the "New Homeopath" can not be satisfied by being supposed. All natural homoeopathic remedies act in the degree of their action in the body, and nothing is more true, than that a strong action on the organs is their true basis. If they are to produce any effect, they must act on the body, and not on the imagination or the mind.

These measures are: (a) subjective, (b) objective, and (c) third-party. The subjective measures are those that are used to measure the patient's own perception of the treatment. The objective measures are those that are used to measure the patient's behavior.
